Marty Hepp
President of CEC Corporation
Area Leadership Team Member of CBMC Oklahoma

Marty Hepp was Born in Oklahoma City but raised in Fairview located in Northwest Oklahoma. He graduated from Fairview High School in 1979 and went to the University of Oklahoma where he graduated in 1984 with a B.S. in Civil Engineering. He went to work at Cobb Engineering Company, now called CEC Corporation, in Oklahoma City as an Engineering Intern. He has served as president of the company since 1991 and became managing partner in 1997. He bought the remainder of the company from the founder and long-time Rotarian, Jim Cobb in 2012 and now the company is known as CEC Infrastructure Solutions. He has grown the company to 200 employees with offices in Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Duncan, and Dallas. The company provides comprehensive design and construction management services for roads, bridges, utilities, facilities, and airports. His clients include ODOT, OTA, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, OGE, and many more government and private clients. The company is currently considered the largest Oklahoma-Based Company in the state. Mr. Hepp has aspirations of growing the company to become a regional engineering company. He has developed a strong faith-based culture and the company operates according to Biblical principles. He has served as Chairman of the American Council of Engineering Companies of Oklahoma and a local board member of the Signatry, a Christian based directed fund. He is also active on the leadership team of the Christian Business Men’s Connection in Oklahoma City.

Mr. Hepp has been married to his wife, Donna 35 years and they have two daughters Alisha Bloom and Kristi Hepp and four grandchildren. They live in the Deer Creek area where they enjoy cycling and traveling together. In addition to running and growing CEC Marty enjoys cycling, restoring cars, and spends most early mornings making disciples for Christ our Lord.
